Having the station
HAVING THE TRAIN STATION
Housebound but well cared for Housing is good quality and very individual. Mostly housing is privately owned and well kept.

I have always lived in the area and settled in Eastergate, I love the friendliness of the villages. The friendliness and connection for myself and family is due to the facilities in the villages e.g. badminton, gym, trampoline in six villages, school, church, and events as fairs, fireworks art and craft groups in the halls and adult education. The connection with nature the beauty of open farmland on the walk to school. The easy access to city by train. The easy access to my family, beaches and rolling downs.

I have enjoyed village life here since 1977-very friendly and little crime.

I like Barnham for its village life, it continues to contain a pleasant atmosphere, character and society. I also grew up here, went to school here and continue to live here. It's got great rail access and great countryside access.

I like living in a rural area, I happily put up with the disadvantages of no street lights, of no footpaths, no gas, no decent internet speed, no choice of digital TV (such as Virgin/cable) all this I happily put up with to live in a rural area.

I like living in Barnham because I can get to the railway station.

I like my home and only leave it when I have to. I would like to move away.

I like the village I do not want to live in a town.

I liked Barnham when it was a village

I no longer like living in Barnham

I think I am very lucky to live here.

In a village but short walk to green fields.

In the country. Barnham railway and buses.

Individuality village life.

It has everything one needs station/buses.

It has many facilities. It is flat for walking.

IT HASN'T CHANGED

It is a village

It is convenient for the rail, airport and ferries.

It is quiet within easy reach to local facilities. Friendly community - neighbourhood support.

It is quiet, low crime rate.

It is still a quiet place overlooking farmland

It is still a village

It is up to now safe and quiet place that is why we are still living here!

It used to be a quiet small country village.

It was lovely 3 decades ago.

It was quiet.

It's a good base for children.

It's away from the city

It's community, local amenities

It's convenient.

It's is a nice community, easy to walk to Barnham, has its own local shop and post office. Lovely small primary school, handy play parks.

It's quiet.

It's still a village

ITS NEAR THE OPEN COUNTRYSIDE

Its nice not living in a town-the open space

Its not built up. Semi countryside. Easy access to sea or Downs. Local Post Office, shop, surgery. Low crime rate. People know each other.

Its OK.

Its peaceful comparing it to Bognor or L/ham.

Its position to the coast, chi, brighton and the downs

Its proximity to South Downs and the coast. Plus great rail service.

Its quite and peaceful with a small village feel.

Just moved into Barnham.

Links to countryside, beaches and towns.

Lived in the area all my life. Easy access to rest of country (train) Just a lovely place to live.

Local amenities, railway station.

Local community feel, rural feel, amenities

Local facilities are to hand and countryside.

Local shops

LOCAL SHOPS

Local shops and easy access to the railway and open spaces with good schools and communication to airports etc. Moved here as it represented a quiet, but well connected area.

Local shops within walking distance. Train station to London and Hove. Good local schools.

Local shops, church community. Accessibility to Chi and Bognor.

Local shops, Railway station.

MAIN LINE STATION

Minimal sense of community and links to station

Most needs meet locally.

Most things can be done locally.

My close proximity to the Station and the Village centre, but also the countryside is on my doorstep.

My family have been here for 5 generations, it's my home

My family have lived here since the late 1800s. As a child there was a very strong village community spirit and it is still present to some extent.

My garden. Ease of access to town, sea and Downs. Easy access to rail travel.

Near railway and bus.

Near the coast.

Near to both countryside and public transport (train) for link to towns.

Near to trains

Nearness to open space. Cycle lane to Bognor. Trains. Local facilities.

Nice area with good links to main roads

Nice area.

Nice rural setting.

No large scale development

Not a town, small enough to know people do not over populate our villages.

Not built up!! Close to Chichester/Arundel. Traditional

Not country and not town and friendly

Not over crowded.

Not too busy and can park by local shops/P.O. Banks etc.

Ok.

OPEN SPACES

Open-Ended Response

Originally decided to live here as it was a peaceful and rural community, however, after 33 years now considering moving out of the area due to development plans.

Our quiet lane.

Our sons are the fifth generation in our house built by my grandfather.

VILLAGE SIZE

Village way of life.

Village with generally good facilities but not too big.

Walking to local school/shops.

We are close to a station

We are halfway between the sea and the Downs so have a choice of things to do for pleasure.

We like the quietness and friendly locals

We moved away from a built up residential area in favour of a semi-rural location. We love looking out of the windows and seeing fields. It is peaceful and tranquil and yet still close to amenities and facilities.

We moved onto the area 5 years ago for the rural character, the quality of life, the access to Coast and countryside. We cannot accept these attributes being destroyed or degraded for the pursuit of an unsustainable, impractical folly of a plan from ADC.

We were born here 70 years ago, great place to live.

When we moved here 35 years ago, it was fine. Now ruined by excessive develop.

when we moved here over 25 years ago it was a quiet commuter village, it has stayed close to that except for the increase in traffic.

Wonderful surgery at the Croft. Excellent Elm Tree Stores. Barnham Station access Near the sea and South Downs.

yes

You got to know lots of people/friendly/family orientated.
